

I am appalled that the FCC is planning to loosen the rules of media ownership. I do not believe that concentration of media ownership is in the public interest. I also do not appreciate that this issue has not received attention from the mainstream media - most people do not know this is happening.